DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-19, 25, drawn to a polymeric electrolyte, classified in class 429, subclass 319.
 - II. Claims 20-21, 26-27, drawn to a method of manufacturing a lithium battery, classified in class 29, subclass 623.5.
 - III. Claims 22-24, 28-29, drawn to a method of manufacturing a lithium battery comprising a separator, classified in class 29, subclass 623.3.
 - IV. Claim 30, drawn to a method of manufacturing a lithium battery by injecting a prepolymer mixture, classified in class 29, subclass 623.1.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II, III, IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process as shown by the different inventions II, III and IV.

Art Unit: 1745

3. Inventions II and III and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have different effects such that Invention II has a step of casting the polymer mixture on the surface of either the cathode or anode which is not required in Inventions III or IV ; Invention III requires interposing a separator between the cathode and the anode which is not required in Inventions II or IV and Invention IV requires injecting the polymer mixture into the battery case after the cathode and anode is in the battery case which is not required in Invention II and Invention IV does not require a separator which is required in Invention III.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. A telephone call was made to Mr. Stein on July 17, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
